This vintage Vineyard home in Aquinnah is a sanctuary nestled into a shady hill, surrounded by a rolling landscape, native plants, lawns, gardens, flowering trees as well as a small pond where yellow iris bloom in the Spring. Follow the pathway bordered by lilacs and lawn to stone steps which lead to a tranquil entry room that has a copper washed floor of Spanish tile and mullioned windows on three-sides. It also has a full bath. This room opens to the heart of the home, the Living Room- with cathedral ceiling, arched doorways, burnished wood beams, simple hand-made doors, a Jotul wood-stove on a hand crafted mosaic hearth, oak floors and a view of the slate patio and rock garden to the south. On the west end, the living room flows into the library/study, which currently serves as a studio. It has an alcove, small loft and skylight, hand-painted walls...
